

KNOWLEDGE OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AS A NECESSARY
COMPONENT FOR SUCCESS IN THE MODERN WORLD

Today, it is necessary to use a foreign language for a career. This is the key to success in all endeavors. Learning a foreign language for a career contributes to the development of skills in business communication, partnership, and competitiveness in the labor market. Knowledge of English is one of the keys to success in life, it allows you to climb a step higher, cover wider expanses of communication, and get acquainted with the national characteristics of the culture and traditions of the peoples in other countries.

People sometimes underestimate the role of language in their lives. Without it, people would not be able to share the necessary information, acquired knowledge, and many other useful things. Knowledge of a foreign language unites people and nations and is a guarantee of friendship. Indeed, without knowing at least the basic words of a foreign language, it is impossible to communicate with a foreigner if he does not speak your native language [1].

There are more than 7 thousand languages in the world, among which 40 languages are the most common and are spoken by about 60 % of the world's population [4]. Not every language is the state language, but not every state speaks the same language. In many countries, some dialects are also considered separate languages. Conversely, in many countries, the official language is one language.

For example, English is recognized as the official in the UK, USA, India, Australia, South Africa, and other countries on all the continents of the world.

English is the official language of international business and trade, the Internet and technology, science, and arts. 80% of the business language space is occupied by it. For 500 million inhabitants of the planet, English is their native language, and for 1 billion people it is the second national language.

English is part of our lives, whether we like it or not. English is the language of businesspeople, diplomacy, international relations, science, medicine, business, and commerce. English is the native language of great writers and poets. Knowledge of English is now important. English is needed to get a popular profession, improve your social status, and increase self-esteem, there are many other aspects – everyone needs it. English has become an international language. English is a language of technology, especially high, such as computer systems, genetics, and medicine.

It is generally accepted to study English as the international equivalent of communication. But this does not reduce the importance of learning other foreign languages. Spanish is the easiest language to learn. More than 700 million people speak Spanish. Chinese, namely Mandarin (dialect). 1.5 billion people speak Chinese. The greatness of the country has the world of business languages from the People's Republic of China, that with the knowledge of this you can see you in business-medium and when applying to work. The Arabic language is spoken by about 400 million people. People who know Arabic are in demand in the labor market today. French is of great historical importance because it was the most popular before the recognition of English. French is spoken by up to 270 million people in the world, both in Europe and in Africa, and America. French is important in the European Union, whose capital is French-speaking Brussels. Learning French is relatively simple and similar to English. Arabic and French are also spoken by a lot of people and are no less important [3].

Without knowledge of a foreign language, it is difficult to imagine successful studies or career growth. Every day, the best educational institutions and successful enterprises require knowledge of foreign languages. Even the use of modern gadgets involves knowledge of a foreign language. That is why in the modern world it is very important to learn a foreign language from early childhood. That is why in the modern world it is very important to learn a foreign language from early childhood. Much attention should be paid to the way of learning the language, teaching methods, training centers, and teachers working in them.

Knowledge of foreign languages is the key to success in the modern world, where intercultural communication and the processing of huge amounts of information are becoming increasingly important. It seems that everyone would like to be successful and happy in business. And in this case, again, knowledge of a foreign language can help.

Firstly, it is additional knowledge, and secondly, employers willingly hire a specialist who speaks a foreign language. However, this is not the most important thing. The main point is the opportunity to immerse yourself in the world of the mysterious and incomprehensible, it is the opportunity to communicate with people and with another layer of worldview and mentality. Each language is the key that opens the door to something of its own, to something new.

By the way, thanks to learning a foreign language, you will improve your memory, attention, and ability to focus on your opinion. And even if you do not achieve the desired result - this already helps in almost any area of your life. And you'll agree to that, it's not enough! By the way, children who are strenuously learning foreign languages are much more focused, attentive, patient, and smarter than their peers who are not fond of learning foreign languages.

In general, a person who speaks languages is a versatile personality has better abilities to learn new things, is freer, and more confident in communicating with people. Currently, knowledge of foreign languages is the key to successful employment: good translators and teachers are needed everywhere, and they are appreciated. Having a foreign language, a person automatically moves to the highest social degree, as he becomes a competitive applicant for a high-paying position.

In today's world, knowledge of a foreign language is the norm for active and purposeful people. If you are fluent in a foreign language, it significantly expands your life prospects. Knowledge of one or even more foreign languages is the key to a successful career, effective communication, and a pleasant stay. A foreign language today is not an unjustified luxury, but rather an extreme necessity. Of course, learning a language is not an easy task. However, everything in our world is possible, the main thing is strong desire and self-confidence. As the English proverb says, «When there is a will, there is a way» («Where there is a desire, there is an opportunity»).
